

Lisa Pavelka's Request for Tips

I'm looking for submissions of favorite tips. If your tip is selected for inclusion, you will be credited with contributing it. Keep in mind that a disclaimer will be published in the book, stating that authorship or origination of each tip is NOT being credited to the person who submitted the idea. In other words, in no way are you claiming to have discovered the idea by contributing it.

I will contact everyone who sends me a tip(s) whether or not I've chosen their submission for inclusion. Final determination will be made by the publisher. IF a tip identical or similar to the one you submitted has already been sent in or has been used in this or one of my previous books, I won't be able to use it.

I would love to give a book to everyone whose tips are selected, but since I have to pay for the books myself, that won't be possible. I will however, upon the book's release (fall 2005), offer one copy at the wholesale price + shipping and handling costs, to everyone whose tip has been printed. I need to have all tips e-mailed to me at:

lisapavelka@heartinhandstudio.com

no later than December 15th. I will respond to everyone letting you know whether or not your tip has been chosen for approval by my editor. I will follow with an e-mail to everyone whose tip(s) I've chosen once I find out if your's has been selected to be published. Thanks for everyone's help and support.

Clayfully Yours,

Lisa Pavelka

The Crafts Report is Seeking Submissions for "People to Watch in American Craft 2005"

Calling all Trend Setters, Innovators and Impact Makers --

If you or someone you know is making a splash in the crafts field, let us know!

In honor of The Crafts Report's 30th Anniversary, the magazine's April 2005 issue will feature profiles of individuals considered "People to Watch in American Craft in 2005."

"People To Watch" is open to anyone working in the crafts industry who has truly made an impact on the business of selling crafts — artists, retailers, show promoters, organization directors, educators, consultants, etc. We're looking for people who are setting trends with their work; finding unique ways to sell; or are regarded as leaders in the crafts field. Nominate a colleague or nominate yourself — here's how:

Send us some work/gallery/show images, and tell us why the nominee should be considered one of the "People to Watch in American Craft 2005." Please include contact information with your submission, as well as a SASE if you would like your photos returned.

Individuals chosen will be contacted to supply images of themselves to be included in the article. Images can either be headshots or more candid photos of the individual at work.

The deadline is Jan. 1, 2005.

Mail or e-mail your submission to:

People to Watch
The Crafts Report
100 Rogers Road
Wilmington, DE 19801
